ALABAMA DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS

ANNUAL REPORT FOR FISCAL YEAR 2004

Kilby Prison

Circa 1951

Named after Thomas Erby Kilby
Alabama Governor 1919-1923

Our Mission Statement:

The mission of the Alabama Department of Corrections is to confine, manage and provide rehabilitative programs for convicted felons in a safe, secure and humane environment, utilizing professionals who are committed to public safety and to the positive re-entry of offenders into society.

Our Values:

- We value ADOC's employees as our most valuable asset.
- We value a safe, secure and rehabilitative environment for the inmate population.
- We value upholding the public trust and a positive public image, emphasizing professionalism, honesty and integrity.
- We value the dignity of every human being.
- We value leadership, which promotes a safe, fair and equitable work environment.
- We value operating in the most effective and economically efficient manner possible.
- We value the ethical conduct of all ADOC's employees.
- We value sharing information, innovation and communication among all levels of staff.
- We value professional working relationships among employees and opportunities for personal and professional growth.

Commissioner's Message

The Office of Commissioner of the Alabama Department of Corrections (ADOC) respectfully submits this Fiscal Year 2004 Annual Report, which provides information relevant to the Dept. of Corrections. Daily, more than 37-hundred Corrections professionals strive to fulfill our mission, including the confinement and management of convicted felons in a secure and humane environment, while preserving the safety of the public, staff and offenders.

The past year has been another challenging period for the Department. Funding has increased while a special parole docket helped to reduce our population for a time. Still, this agency continues to be faced with responsibilities that challenge the resources provided.

The ADOC continues to operate with frugal ingenuity to provide safe prison operations for the citizens of Alabama, ADOC staff and those confined.

It is my pleasure to serve as ADOC Commissioner and I look forward to working with you as we move forward.

Donal Campbell, Commissioner

Preface

This annual report is divided into four sections: Executive Directory, Listings and maps of the institutions and the Community Corrections Program counties, History on each institution, and a Statistical section. This document provides a small incite to the history of the previous fiscal year. The first section of this document will provide a directory of those that served in an executive postion. The second section will list, in alphabetical order, the institutions by major institutions, work releases, community work centers, and the boot camp. Following the listing of insitutions will be a map reflecting the county in which the various institutions are located. Also in this section will be the Community Corrections Program's counties, in an alphabetical listing and reflected on a map. The third section of this document will contain information and a brief historical synopsis of the year's activities on each institution, in alphabetical order. The last section will contain facts and figures for the offenders on hand, received, released, work squads, and community corrections.

The Alexander City Work Release (WR)/Community Work Center (CWC) opened in September 1974 with a designed capacity for 48 community custody inmates. The facility expanded in 1976 and the capacity increased to 64 inmates. The Department originally leased a site from Russell Mills Corporation in Alexander City until early 1993, when adjacent property was purchased from the University of Alabama. Construction of a new facility in June 1993 increased the designed capacity to 180 inmates. The facility's operational capacity increased to 220 when new beds were added in 1995. In 1996, a modular unit was opened increasing operational capacity to 260 (eventually becoming the Honor Dorm), and then a second modular unit was added bringing the total to 300 in 1997 (Substance Abuse Program (SAP) inmates/recent SAP graduates sleeping area). In 1999, an additional row of beds was added bringing ACCBF to its current operational capacity of 320.

The Center has an on-going Community Work Center that provides free inmate labor to the local and state government entities.

The Center has a full time Drug Treatment Counselor who coordinates an eight-(8) week Substance Abuse Program and Alcoholics Anonymous and Narcotics Anonymous classes to assist inmates whom are recovering from substance abuse problems.

Religious services are provided weekly by various denominational volunteers.

ATMORE WORK RELEASE/COMMUNITY WORK CENTER

The Atmore Work Release/Community Work Center began within Fountain Correctional Facility during 1973 with 10 to 15 inmates who were employed in the local timber industry. In 1976, the program was moved into a mobile home complex at the current location. During June of 1989, the Center moved into a permanent structure. The structure had a designed capacity for 144 inmates and two double-bunked holding cells and a chapel. Subsequently, the operational capacity has increased to 250 inmates. In 2003, then Atmore added an After Care Program for Alcoholics Anonymous and Narcotics Anonymous.

The center is located on five acres about seven miles north of Atmore on State Highway 21; sitting about one mile off of the highway. The Center provides work release inmates to widespread employers in Baldwin, Escambia and Monroe Counties.

A wide variety of programs are available to assist the inmates of Bibb Correctional Facility in their efforts for re-entry into society.

The cornerstone of Bibb's programs is a six-month Residential Substance Abuse Treatment (RSAT) program. This is an intensive substance abuse program designed to assist an inmate with chemical dependencies, acquire the necessary strategies for dealing with his problem. Following their graduation from the program, inmates are then placed into continuing aftercare. Aftercare demonstrates to the resident that continued sobriety rests on his own active participation in recovery strategies.

Recognizing that "Knowledge is Power", Bibb Correctional Facility offers to its inmates Adult Basic Education classes. The focus of this program is to equip the inmates with the necessary information to obtain a GED certificate. In addition to Adult Basic Education, Bibb Correctional Facility has Special Programs Services. Special Programs Services evaluates those inmates with special education needs. Utilizing this evaluation process, a specific educational program is tailored for the individual needs of an inmate.

Recognizing ADOC limited resources, Bibb Correctional Facility has partnered with local volunteers and support agencies in developing two additional programs, the Long Distance Dad program and the Faith Based Dormitory. The Long Distance Dad program recognizes the hardship placed upon the parental relationship by incarceration and seeks to provide classes with strategies designed to teach good parental skills and method of communication.

The Faith Based Dormitory is a structured housing unit where an inmate who has demonstrated, through his behavior and religious faith, a readiness to accept his situation and live in a spiritual environment. Inmates must conform to the ideas of good citizenship and compliance to institutional and society's rules.

In addition to the structured programs and dormitories, Bibb Correctional Facility offers several self-help workshops to build a positive self image in the inmates. These workshops deal with such things as anger management, positive self-images, and personal development.

It is the goal of Bibb Correctional Facility to provide to its inmates the tools necessary to become positive productive citizens.

BULLOCK CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: Arnold Holt

Security Level: IV

Authorized Staff: Security: 175
Support: 45

Opened: 1987 for Male Inmates

Designed Capacity: 611

Operational Capacity: 1318

Location Address:

US Highway 82 East
Union Springs, AL 36089

Mailing Address:

P.O. Box 5107
Union Springs, AL 36089-5107

Telephone Number:

(334) 738-5625

The Bullock Correctional Facility opened during April 1987, with a capacity for 611 inmates. The 100-acre facility is located on US Highway 82, 1.5 miles east of Union Springs. Bullock CF was constructed for $11,216,000.00. The facility is a medium security level.

Bullock's primary mission is the provision of mental health services. Accordingly, the operational capacity was increased to 1,318 inmates housed in 23 dormitories and 20 single cells. The single cells are primarily used for inmates under mental health observation and secondarily for administrative and/or disciplinary segregation purposes. Programs and treatment protocols include Intermediate and Intensive Mental Health, substance abuse treatment, adult basic education programs, and daily religious programs.

Additionally, Bullock offers comprehensive medical health care that encompasses mental health, medical, and dental care, to include free-world specialty services.

The industrial operation was closed and is currently being renovated into a Mental Health complex, which would house approximately 200 additional inmates.

Bullock's Faith-Based Honor Dorm program began in October 1999 with an operational capacity for 74 inmates. Catholic, Muslim, and Protestant are the predominate religions represented. Each resident must enroll in one of the existing religious education programs and participate a minimum of six hours per week in class, and two hours of prayer. Dorm activities include six bible studies per week; three Qur'an (Koran) studies per week; two hours of seminars per week; and ten hours of teaching video time.

BULLOCK WORK RELEASE/COMMUNITY WORK CENTER

Warden: Sandra Giles

Bullock Work Release/Community Work Center began as an integral part of the Bullock Correctional Facility. During July 1995, the Center was relocated into four doublewide trailers (for inmate living quarters) outside the fenced perimeter. During February 1997, an additional trailer was added, increasing the operational capacity to 225 inmates. In April 1999, additional beds were added increasing the operational capacity to 231 inmates. Bullock CF provided catered meals and access to the law library.

During February 1997, a substance abuse program began with the staffing of two Drug Treatment Counselors to complement Narcotics Anonymous/Alcoholics Anonymous. In March 1997, Bullock WR/CWC became an independent organizational entity separate from the main facility's administration.

Inmates received at Bullock WR/CWC are typically classified as minimum-custody status and assigned non-paying jobs at the Center for a period of observation. When a paying job is obtained within the community, the inmates are reclassified as community-custody status. Free-world employment opportunities around a three county area include poultry processing, dry cleaning, auto mechanics, sod farming, cabinet making and wood finishing, and column building and construction.

CAMDEN WORK RELEASE/COMMUNITY WORK CENTER

Camden Work Release/Community Work Center was converted from an Alabama Highway Department Road Camp to a work release facility in March 1976 as a measure to alleviate overcrowding. The facility is located within the city limits of Camden on Alabama Highway 221. In 1976, Camden's designed capacity was 55. By 1985, the operational capacity had increased to 88. Today, the operational capacity at Camden Community Based Facility is 182.

Typically, inmates assigned to Camden Community Based Facility work predominantly in catfish processing and timber industries. In February 2004, Camden Community Work Center was established within the work release. These minimum custody inmates perform on-going community work service. Providing free inmate labor to: the City of Camden; the Wilcox County Board of Education; the Department of Corrections Basic Training Academy in Selma; the Alabama State Trooper Post in Selma; and the Alabama Department of Transportation in Camden and Grove Hill, Alabama.

The Childersburg facility is composed of three separate facilities, each with a separate mandate.

CHILDERSBURG WORK RELEASE CENTER became operational in July 1996 and has an operational capacity of 180 inmates. As a re-integrative program, the inmates work in free-world jobs during the day and return to the Center after work.

The facility employs 1 full time medical professional.

CHILDERSBURG COMMUNITY WORK CENTER is a community works service facility with an operational capacity of 250 inmates classified as minimum-out custody status. The inmates providing free labor are assigned to individual community squads and the squads are assigned to various state and local governmental agencies. The agencies accept responsibility for supervising the assigned squad and transportation to and from the Center.

CHILDERSBURG BOOT CAMP is an intensive 180-day program with dual emphasis on a military boot camp style regiment and personal improvement programs. These include strict discipline, rigorous exercise, Adult Basic Education with 1 full time teacher and 2 part time aides, substance abuse, special services (special education) with 2 employees, and life skills counseling. The facility has an operational capacity of 120 inmates per cycle. Boot camp participants are not processed through the Receiving & Classification at Kilby like typical state inmates entering the Department; rather, the participants are sentenced directly from the committing county to the program by court order and remain under judicial review. After successful completion of Boot Camp, the inmate is returned to the jurisdiction of the sentencing judge for final disposition of the sentence.

Decatur Work Release/Community Work Center opened on May 31, 1981, with a designed capacity of 128 inmates. Currently the operational capacity is 430 inmates. The five-acre site is on Alabama Highway 20 and utilizes six of eleven buildings. Inmates are transported to jobs in Morgan, Limestone, and Madison Counties.

The facility has a Drug Treatment Counselor to assist recovering inmates with substance abuse aftercare, Relapse Therapy, Narcotics Anonymous and Alcoholics Anonymous programs. Also in place at the Decatur Facility are peer programs such as the Inmate Mentoring Program and the Faith Based Honor Dorm. Personal Development classes are offered to the entire population and the New Life Behavior Series of classes are taught to those residents of the Faith Based Honor Dorm.

William E. Donaldson Correctional Facility, officially opened in October 1982 as the West Jefferson Correctional Facility with a capacity of 700 minimum and medium custody inmates housed in dormitories, and 32 single cells. The facility was named in honor of a correctional officer assigned at West Jefferson who was killed in the line of duty. Subsequently, Donaldson was expanded to the current capacity, and has a 199-inmate segregation unit.

Donaldson was classified as a maximum-security institution in 1986 and specializes in controlling repeat and/or multiple violent offenders with lengthy sentences that are behaviorally difficult to manage. Donaldson currently houses a large contingency of inmates sentenced to life without parole. Donaldson has a death row unit with a capacity of 24 inmates. Currently Donaldson has an operational capacity of 1,760 inmates.

Donaldson has an extensive array of programs available to inmates. Donaldson offers an educational program that is coordinated through Lawson State Community College. Inmates that are not capable of performing at the basic skill level can receive tutoring through the Laubach Reading and Writing program that is coordinated by the Chaplain and civilian volunteers. Inmates can also take advantage of an Adult Basic Education program and receive their General Education Degree. In addition, Lawson State also offers vocational education opportunities to population inmates that have less than a life without parole sentence. Vocations offered are barbering, drafting, cabinetry, plumbing, electrical, and brick masonry.

Donaldson also offers a variety of treatment-oriented programs. In "E" & "F" Cellblock, a 6-month Residential Substance Abuse Treatment (RSAT) program was started in 1997 and provides approximately 133 inmates with active treatment, while another 133 inmates are involved in pre-treatment and/or aftercare. Donaldson was the creator of the first Faith Based Program, detailed below. Donaldson also offers numerous classes supervised by a staff psychologist, allowing inmates to learn how to cope with psychological problems. Classes available are Narcotics Anonymous, Alcohol Anonymous, Sexual Addict Anonymous, Values Clarification, Transactional Analysis, Anger Management, Emotional Awareness, Healthy use of Leisure Time, Self-Concept Enhancement, and Reality Therapy.

CONTINUED - DONALDSON CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

The Special Services Department at J.F. Ingram State Technical College has specially designed classroom instructions to meet the unique needs of incarcerated students who qualify for Special Education Services. It includes services for the students with any of the following disabilities that interfere with their ability to benefit from regular education: learning disabilities, mental retardation, disorders, and physical disabilities. Incarcerated individuals under the age of 21 who have previously received special education services in the public school system are identified and are reevaluated to determine continued eligibility.

Donaldson also operates a Mental Health Treatment Program. This program consists of a staff of approximately 26 Mental Health professionals, including Psychologists, Mental Health Professionals, Activity Technicians, Registered / Licensed Professional Nurses and Correctional Officers who are assigned for security in addition to being actively involved with inmate treatment. There are currently 127 mental health beds available for this program. There are inmates with serious mental illnesses that are in population and are treated as outpatients by the mental health staff.

The Faith-Based Honor Dorm is housed in "B" Dorm. This program has been the model for other facilities in establishing similar programs.

The idea for the Honor Community at Donaldson evolved around the need to have a living area that could be managed with minimal security while providing opportunities for inmates to achieve personal growth. In September 1997, Ben Sherrod, a free-world volunteer affiliated with Kairos Prison Ministries, and other volunteers from Briarwood Presbyterian Church and Prison Fellowship presented Warden Billy Mitchem with a proposal to establish an atmosphere within the prison that was conducive for spiritual and personal growth. Warden Mitchem gave final approval for the Honor Community in December 1997 and it was officially started in February 1998. The first year was mostly trial and error about what type of organizational structure would work best and what types of classes were most beneficial. Initially, there was varying degrees of opposition and skepticism from staff and inmates alike, but during the first year, a gradual consensus developed that the Honor Community successfully produced the desired goals.

Phase II, which began in April 1999, was distinguished by a greater level of teamwork between the ADOC, volunteer staff, and the inmates. Written standard operating procedures were implemented and since have proven to be effective in the administration of the Honor Community. Class curriculums were further defined, offering specific classes of development that are mandatory for each program participant. The Honor Community is not a program based upon privileges, but of opportunity and responsibility, which was emphasized by increasing the amount of hours per week that participants are required to work and by increasing the number of classes they must take.

Phase III will include more classes, more mentors, more evangelism and greater involvement by volunteers from the surrounding area and community.

Draper was constructed in 1939 with a designed capacity of 600 first-time male felony offenders, replacing the burned Speigner Reformatory. Named in honor of Warden Hamp Draper, the institution is located on Alabama Highway 143, approximately 12 miles west of Wetumpka in Elmore County on 3,560 acres of land. The current operational capacity of 1,232 is housed in seven dormitory-style cellblocks, architecturally designed in a telegraph pole configuration popular of that era. Draper also has a segregation unit with a capacity for 47-inmates. Draper is the oldest prison in the ADOC system.

Draper houses primarily young male first-time offenders in a Level IV security classification. Security is provided by perimeter towers, vehicular patrols, and a chain linked fence topped with razor ribbon.

Each inmate has an assigned job, which includes food service, sanitation, a large farming operation, a laundry, a furniture plant, and a vehicle garage. Draper Correctional Center also provides the opportunity for educational or vocational improvement. J.F. Ingram State Technical College and the Draper/Staton Trade School offer a wide variety of programs, which include a General Education Degree or Trade School vocation. Treatment Programs are also available to include stress management, anger reduction, sexual adjustment, substance abuse, violence interruption, self-concept enhancement, depression reduction, reality therapy, Residential Substance Abuse Treatment (RSAT), pre-release, and value clarification.

Established during fiscal year 1999, the Faith Based Honor Dorm was introduced to provide religious programming. The program uses two dormitories with an operational capacity for 236 inmates. The chaplain administers the program with the assistance and support of The Word of Life Christian Center. In addition to religious studies, residents attend classes on parenting, money management, and life skills. Prior to admission to the program, inmates must go through a screening process.

Easterling Correctional Facility became operational on March 3, 1990 with a designed capacity for 600 general population inmates and 52 segregation inmates. Easterling is comprised of 200 acres located approximately 2.5 miles southeast of Clio on Alabama Highway 10. The 30 acre fenced in campus-style complex was designed to house medium custody inmates. It was named in honor of Danny A. Easterling, long-time mayor of Clio, who was instrumental in securing the facility's location.

Easterling has a dorm dedicated for drug treatment of inmates who have a history of substance abuse. A staff of drug counselors manages approximately 170 inmates involved in the program, including pre-treatment, aftercare, and Alcoholics Anonymous and Narcotics Anonymous.

Vocational programs are offered through Wallace Community College and J. F. Ingram Technical College. Approximately 225 inmates participate in improving themselves through literacy or Adult Basic Education classes, or in trades such as drafting, industrial electricity, cabinet making, plumbing, or brick masonry.

In November 1998, Easterling was approved for and entered into a cooperative agreement with the National Institute of Corrections to become a Zero Tolerance Drug and Tobacco Free Prison, one of only four prisons in the nation to enter into the agreement. To accomplish this goal, Easterling had to acquire four drug detecting dogs (K-9), four dog handlers, one radio operator to monitor the telephones, one new Drug Treatment Counselor, and an Ion Scanner to help in the detection and interdiction of drugs entering the facility. Easterling is the only tobacco-free major institution in the state system. Smoking cessation classes are available for staff and inmates.

Easterling has a Faith Based Honor Dorm that houses 124 inmates. Education, both religious and secular, is high priority in this dorm. Freeworld volunteers who are essential to the success of the dorm give their time to teach classes and provide moral and spiritual guidance to the inmates. Easterling also operates an Honor Dorm that houses 114 inmates. Inmates in this dorm are involved in non-faith based self-help groups and various personal development classes.

All inmates are encouraged to participate in the various programs offered at Easterling and a prolonged mission to reach and maintain full staffing is ongoing.

Elba was converted in June 1976 from a previous State Highway Department Road Camp into a Work Release Center/Community Work Center with a capacity for 55 inmates. Since then, the Center's operational capacity has expanded to house 250 inmates with seven dormitories (six population dorms and one faith-based honor dorm), areas for recreation, food service, and administration, a renovated officer control center, increased inmate showering, and a secure holding cell.

Elba has various self-help/improvement and treatment programs to include Adult Basic Education classes, Alcoholics Anonymous, and Narcotics Anonymous group sessions.

The Center maintains a high degree of employment with jobs in car dealerships, poultry processing plants, and builders of composite type columns. The inmates also provide free labor for on going community work projects with local cities, townships, and National Guard Units, Department of Transportation and county road maintenance.

Elmore Correctional Center, originally named Staton Annex, originated in 1981 as a temporary institution that used pre-fabricated modular units as dormitories and a permanently constructed dining hall. The facility is located just north of Montgomery in Elmore County, and is adjacent to Draper and Staton. During July 1991, the three dormitories were constructed for permanency and the operational capacity increased to 350 inmates per dorm. Additionally, a new kitchen was added to the dining hall and the old kitchen renovated into an administrative area.

Elmore has a visiting area, a law library, a substance abuse treatment area, and a chapel. The inmates have opportunity to participate in numerous religious, recreational, educational and self-help programs.

Elmore operates a regional laundry service for the nearby facilities. In addition, it is the recycling headquarters for the department and also composts for the other local facilities. The recycling operation expanded in 1999. Inmates classified as minimum-in custody are required to work on the institution's property under the supervision of department employees. Inmates classified as minimum-out custody may work off the property under free-world supervision. Inmates employed on renovation crews of the Alabama Correctional Industries are housed at their work sites until weekends and holidays when they are returned to the institution.

The Faith-Based Honor Dorm was established in May 1998. It has the operational capacity of 196 inmates and stays full. A waiting list for entry is maintained. The criterion for entry is a clear record for the previous year. Inmates are allowed some extra privileges and have four "family night" events per year. An Oversight Committee consisting of the Chaplain, the Classification Specialist Supervisor and the Captain appoint 8 interns every 6 months. These interns resolve minor conflicts within the Honor Dorm. Disciplinary actions in the Honor Dorm are much lower than in the other dorms.

The Farquhar State Cattle Ranch was purchased in 1940 to supply the ADOC with beef. Located in Hale County, the 4,610-acre Ranch is approximately eight miles east of Greensboro, and extends from Alabama Highway 69 to the Black Warrior River. The Ranch was named in honor of Charles Farquhar, who was killed in the line of duty, and whose efforts culminated the ranch into an efficient working prison farm. The Ranch maintains minimum and trusty custody inmates, which when not working on the Ranch, provide free labor to community work projects for local county, city, and other government agencies

The Ranch's primary operations are cattle and catfish production. A herd of about 625 mature cattle are kept on 1,800 acres of grazing pastures. The adult herd is culled annually of nonproductive cows, which are sold at competitive bid at a stockyard. The calves are weaned and also sold through an open auction. The Ranch keeps about 300 acres for hay production, as well as having some timberland.

The catfish production is a commercial operation with 35 ponds on 400 acres. Of the ponds, 15 are production ponds, 4 are used primarily for brood ponds, and 16 ponds for fingerlings. A hatchery produces the fingerlings, which are used for restocking the production ponds after the fish are sold. Any surplus fingerlings are sold through open bid to local catfish farmers.

In addition to the revenues generated from the cattle and catfish operations, further revenues are generated from the sale of quail, pecans, horses, and goats.

The Ranch has a full time Drug Treatment Counselor who coordinates an eight-(8) week substance abuse program and Alcoholics Anonymous and Narcotics Anonymous classes to assist inmates whom are recovering from substance abuse problems.

Religious services are provided weekly by various denominational volunteers.

G.K. FOUNTAIN CORRECTIONAL CENTER was officially opened in 1928 and was known as Atmore Prison. At that time the prison operated the Moffett Prison Farm on much of the farm acreage that remains ADOC property. In 1949 the main prison burned and was reopened in 1955 with a designed capacity of 632 medium custody inmates. In 1968 Atmore Prison was renamed G.K. Fountain Correctional Facility in honor of Green Kelly Fountain who was the first Warden assigned to Atmore Prison.

Today the prison is located on approximately 7,000 acres of farm, pasture and timberland approximately seven miles north of Atmore, Alabama, adjacent to Alabama Highway 21. The prison houses 1,213 medium and minimum custody, adult, male felony offenders. The housing units consist of eight open-bay dorms with 1,149 double bunked beds and 64 single cell units.

Utilizing inmate labor to maintain and operate a beef cattle operation, agricultural operations, a vegetable garden, a central laundry, and a fleet service garage.

Inmates have opportunities for educational and vocational training through the Jefferson Davis Community College. The college provides adult basic education classes and vocational classes such as: brick masonry, barbering, cabinet making, small engine repair, automotive repair, welding, auto body repair, quality food preparation, and computer technology. Program completion ranges are between 12 and 18 months. Two hundred and fifty inmates may attend the programs each quarter.

A 10 bed medical infirmary with twenty-four hour health care is available for inmates. The unit also provides medical and dental support for local work release facilities.

The facility is responsible for the employee and inmate drug-testing program at Fountain/J.O. Davis, Holman CF, Atmore WR/CWC and Camden WR/CWC.

G.K. Fountain Correctional Center is the home of the Canine Units for the Southern Region. That unit normally responds to more than fifty (50) requests from other law enforcement agencies during the year. The unit is on call twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week. The unit's duties range from apprehending inmates on escape and fleeing felons to rescuing or searching for missing persons.

CONTINUED - FOUNTAIN CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

G.K. Fountain Correctional Facility has a Faith Based Honor Dorm program. The program began with 77 inmates and has grown to 344 inmates. The program provides classes and tutoring in life skills, parenting, budgeting and other personal development classes. The program is a rigid program that promotes personal, spiritual, and religious growth among its participants. The program has been successful in that inmate participants are seldom cited for violating prison rules.

The J.O. DAVIS CORRECTIONAL FACILITY, located approximately 350 yards west of G.K. Fountain Correctional Center, is a level II, minimum security facility that functions as a dorm of G.K. Fountain Correctional Center. The unit was built in 1973 and housed 250 inmates. Formerly the Trusty Barracks, it was renamed in honor of a former Fountain Warden. The facility burned in 1995, was refurbished, and reopened in 1995 with an operational capacity of 400. The 400 adult, male felony offenders are housed in 4 open-bay dorms with all beds double bunked.

The inmates assigned to J.O. Davis Correctional Facility provide community service work crews for various city, county and state agencies. The J.O. Davis work crew unit provides 200 inmates for community service on a daily basis. Another 130 inmates are assigned on-property jobs.

The J.O. Davis Unit has an eight-week Substance Abuse Treatment Program for inmates who are court ordered or who need and request substance abuse treatment.

Frank Lee Youth Center became operational on June 1964 with a designed capacity for 104 first time male offenders, twenty-one or younger, with a sentence of less than ten years. The facility was named in honor of A. Frank Lee, a previous prison commissioner. In 1975, two additional dormitories were built increasing the capacity to 200 inmates. Today the facility has four dormitories, administrative area, ancillary service areas, and houses an operational capacity of 288 adult, minimum custody offenders. The Center architecturally resembles a school rather than a prison, and uses frequent and irregular head counts for security rather than fences, bars and towers.

The Center is immediately adjacent to the J. F. Ingram State Community College, which has in attendance about 220 inmates from nearby Staton, Draper, and Elmore. Frank Lee Youth Center provides security staff for these attendees while at J. F. Ingram State Community College, and also provides their noon meals.

Frank Lee Youth Center's inmate population is divided into two sub-categories: permanent party and pre-work release inmates.

Inmates assigned to permanent party are low risk inmates and have never committed a sex offense. Typically assigned to the Center on a long-term basis, the permanent party inmates attend trade school for vocational training, or General Education Degree classes, participate in substance abuse programs, work on community squads for state, county and city agencies or are utilized for institutional jobs at Frank Lee Youth Center.

In contrast, pre-work release inmates are assigned to the facility on a short-term basis, having been classified for work release and are awaiting placement to work release institutions.

Frank Lee Youth Center's motto is: "Through teamwork comes Success".

On May 10, 1981, the aged and infirmed inmates from Kilby Correctional Facility were moved to Hamilton into a refurbished facility purchased from the Alabama Mental Health Department. At the same time, the Hamilton Work Release Center located nearby in a previous road camp facility was closed. This established the Hamilton Aged and Infirm Center (HAIC), which combined the two sub-populations groups into one facility. However, in August 1985, additional space was needed for an increasing aged and/or infirmed sub-population, and the work release element relocated back into the previous Work Release Center.

HAIC has approximately five acres within a security fence, and houses minimum and medium custody inmates that are aged and/or infirmed. The medium custody Hamilton A&I inmates are housed in such a manner as to provide adequate security along with the necessary medical services needed by each individual. A staff of minimum custody inmates provide facility upkeep and community work service.

During fiscal year 1999 an additional forty-two beds were added, to increase the facility operational capacity to 300 inmates. Hamilton A&I is a geriatric facility for the elderly and medically disabled inmates within the ADOC.

Hamilton WR/CWC opened on July 29, 1976, using the State Highway Department's Road Camp facilities, with a designed capacity for 55 inmates. In 1981, the work release inmates relocated and combined with the aged and/or infirmed inmates relocating from Kilby to form the Hamilton Aged and Infirmed Center. In 1985, the work release element relocated back into the previous facilities and has gradually expanded to the current capacity with the addition of modular dormitories.

The Center has a diverse and volatile job market with inmates employed in the mobile home industry, furniture industry, storm window/door industry, as well as common labor jobs such as saw mills.

Hamilton WR/CWC has a variety of activities offered to the inmates. Many different religious denominations have programs and General Education Degree classes take place weekly.

Holman Correctional Facility opened during December 1969, with a designed capacity for 520 medium custody inmates, which also included a cellblock for 20 death row inmates. It was constructed for $5,000,000 during Governor Lurleen Wallace and Commissioner James T. Hagen's administration. Named in honor of a former Warden, William C. Holman, it is located in southwest Escambia County, nine miles north of Atmore off of Alabama Highway 21.

A major addition was completed in the summer of 2000 to add 200 single cells to the segregation unit. This addition was required to keep up with the increasing number of inmates on Death Row that had grown to more than 150.

Holman currently houses maximum through minimum custody inmates to include a large contingency of life without parole inmates. The death chamber is located at Holman where all executions are conducted. In the fall of 2002, the execution chamber was remodeled to provide for the conversion to lethal injection as a method of execution.

There are many programs offered to inmates at Holman to help prepare them for a return to society. Trade school classes are offered for barbering, brick masonry, upholstery, and adult basic education classes. There are also two major correctional industries within the facility's perimeter, a tag plant and metal fabrication plant.

Mental Health and spiritually based programs can also be vital to an inmate's adjustment for possible release and Holman offers many programs such as Anger Management, Alcoholics/Narcotics Anonymous, Personal Development, Substance Abuse Intervention, Long Distance Dads, and Depression Workshop.

CONTINUED - HOLMAN CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

The Honor Dorm at Holman Unit is now functioning in a 174-bed dormitory that has housed the honor dorm since December 2002; the faith based honor dorm, however has been operating since October 8, 1999. Holman's faith based honor dorm is founded upon restorative justice philosophical principles in all of its goals, curriculum, and strategy for lifestyle programming. There are four general areas through which the strategy for lifestyle programming is applied: lectures of exposure and participants' interaction; an academic setting for cognitive skills to be developed; an environment that is conducive for and supports the need for change; and opportunities to implement that which is taught for a communal reorientation to life. All of these produce a desire to live a productive life with charitable life goals.

The dorm's educational classes have been divided into two categories: community educational classes and academic educational classes. All classes, to some degree, teach restorative justice principles. Restorative justice insists an accountability that requires personal change in areas of one's cultural habits, one's worldview, and one's lifestyle. Holman's Faith Based Restorative Justice is making progress with these objectives one person at a time through the context of a different community in the society of the incarcerated.

Kilby Correctional Facility was established during December 1969 with a designed capacity of 440 inmates as the Mt. Meigs Medical and Diagnostic Center. Located in the Mt. Meigs community, the facility is located on 154 acres just outside the city limits of Montgomery and replaced another prison of the same name and similar function. Designed to be the receiving center for all male inmates, it had dormitories, 100 two-man cells, and a hospital unit. The facility was later renamed in honor of Thomas E. Kilby, who was governor when his namesake, the old Kilby Prison, was constructed during 1923.

Kilby is a maximum-security prison because all inmates, those with known or unknown criminal histories, are received into the Department for further evaluation, classification, and assignment to other correctional facilities within the system. Perimeter security is achieved with a double fence of 18-foot tall chain link, mesh-topped with razor wire, and overlooked by five towers. In addition to the Receiving and Classification Center, Kilby also furnishes the Hospital Services including medical and mental health treatment. The medical facilities provides comprehensive health care to include dental services, mental health care; and medical treatment which includes free world specialty care, and all related support services.

Inmate programs offered by Kilby includes anger management, Narcotics/Alcoholics Anonymous, a chapter of the Volunteers in Corrections, sex offenders therapy, General Education Degree/Adult Basic Education classes, 12-Step alcohol/drug counseling, chaplain services, and individual and group therapy offered as part of an on-going mental health program.

During 2000, an Inmate Faith-Based Honor Dorm comprised of 124 inmates and a Substance Abuse Program (SAP) involving 30 inmates per eight-week program was created at Kilby CF. Various classes were conducted to instill within the inmates that they must have faith in themselves that they can change before it will happen. SAP is an eight-week program designed to eliminate alcohol and drugs in the lives of the inmates.

Kilby also maintains a canine unit, which is used to assist local law enforcement agencies in tracking and apprehending escapees, suspects of crimes and missing persons. On-site employee training programs are conducted at Kilby for local ADOC institutional security and support personnel within the Montgomery area.

CONTINUED - KILBY CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Kilby's Faith-Based Honor Dormitory inmates are expected to show exemplary conduct in all areas of their daily life. The following classes and sessions were offered: Moral Development, Anger Replacement, Finding a Job, Life Skills, Keeping the Family Alive while Serving a Prison Sentence, Biblical Economics, Prayer, Leadership Principles, Video Classes, Motivational Sessions, Relapse Prevention, and Reality Therapy. In addition a Basic English and pre- General Education Degree classes were offered.

The eligible Dorm inmates engaged in two family fellowships during the year. The family fellowship is evenings when families are allowed special visits with Honor Dorm inmates, and as such, are powerful motivation incentives to encourage inmates to follow the tenets of the Faith Dorm. Many participants of the Faith-Based Honor Dorm have been recognized for their leadership and contributions in making the dorm a desirable place for inmates assigned at Kilby.

Bradley Settlement Agreement: Kilby's reception mental health screening and evaluation process has achieved compliance with the Bradley Agreement. Services for outpatient inmates have also achieved compliance with the Bradley Agreement. Kilby's Stabilization Unit is providing acceptable services, compliance in this area will require transition of the program to the new Bullock unit once it is operational. Specialized Mental Health Training is continually offered to all ADOC employees and mental health staff working at Kilby. The training is required for any officer who works in the single cell & mental health areas.

Effective utilization of our limited resources have allowed Kilby to:

- 1) Assist in the processing of ADOC inmates housed in Mississippi back into the ADOC system to include providing 4 COs to assist the Transfer Agents in transporting back to Alabama.
- 2) Assisted Mobile County Jail in housing and transporting the inmates from the jail to Kilby for holding purposes during the Hurricane Ivan crises.
- 3) Assisted Montgomery Work Center in the transition from a Work Release Center to a Work Center by installing a perimeter fence; handling of maintenance problems; providing staffing when officer shortages occurred; providing laundry services for inmate clothing and linens; providing fresh produce from our garden to assist in providing food for their inmates; providing clothing for the inmates; and other services when requested from our budgeted funds and staffing.
- 4) Assisted other institutions, facilities, work camps with inmates and the Department of Public Health with free-world TB cases that required isolation during TB outbreak crises. During this time, there were more inmates than negative airflow cells available to house these contagious inmates. Kilby handled these problems without being quarantined and continued to operate in a normal manner.
- 5) Converted our old chapel into a holding area for inmates waiting for appointments and office space for our Permanent Party Classification Specialists and Institutional Parole Officer. This allowed privacy for the parole interviews and gave the Inst. Parole Officer a permanent location to work from rather than empty spaces and no privacy. Offices for the Permanent Party Specialists allowed one-on-one sessions when the inmate was having problems and needed assistance, privacy during interviews for reviews, and allowed the specialists an opportunity to have all their files and paperwork together. This gave the permanent party inmates' access to the caseload specialist, which has always been a problem in the past.

LIMESTONE CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

Warden: Billy Mitchem

Security Level: IV

Authorized Staff: Security: 253
Support: 59

Opened: 1984 for male inmates

Designed Capacity: 874

Operational Capacity: 2086

Location/Mailing Address:

28779 Nick Davis Road
Harvest, AL 35749-7009

Telephone Number:

Limestone Correctional Facility opened during October of 1984. The facility has approximately 1,157 acres of farmland, of which approximately 90 acres are used within the facility. Utilizing dormitory like buildings, Limestone has operational capacity for 2,086 inmates, which also includes approximately 238 HIV/AIDS inmates who have been segregated into their own dormitories since 1985. The facility is located in north Alabama approximately ten miles west of Huntsville, and approximately ten miles east of Athens.

The facility maintains several programs that offer inmates the opportunity to learn a trade and further their education, which allows them to better function in society upon their release. There is a six-month Residential Substance Abuse Treatment (RSAT) program with classes offered to the general population, segregation population and the HIV population. Calhoun Community College conducts on-site educational services that include Adult Basic Education, upholstery, auto body, auto mechanics, computer-aided drafting, welding, horticulture and construction.

Limestone Correctional Facility began a Faith Based Honor Dorm Program in August of 1999. Currently this program has 498 inmates assigned. This Program gives the inmate a structured and well-disciplined environment, which makes the facility as a whole, safer.

There are five minimum custody squads that provide outside assistance to the local governments and the Alabama Department of Transportation. The squads' free labor saves the local governments thousands of dollars annually.

LOXLEY WORK RELEASE CENTER (WR) opened during November 1995 as an adjunct to the Community Work Center. Occupying a new building, the WR center had an operational capacity of 144 community custody inmates to coincide with the existing building's operational capacity of 160 minimum custody inmates. During March 1996, two modular units were added to increase the work release's operational capacity to 404 inmates. It was during this time, the CWC decreased its capacity to 75 inmates. The Work Release Center maintains a high degree of employment and provides various free-world employment opportunities in the county including furniture production, restaurants, construction, mechanics, and carpentry.

A new minimum camp was completed in January 1999 but was not opened for occupancy until October 2000. This building had a capacity of 132 inmates, increasing the overall Loxley complex capacity to 536 inmates. After the closing of East Thomas Work Release in 12/00, Loxley's total capacity increased to 562 inmates. 462 being work release and 100 in the minimum camp.

The Center has a full time Drug Treatment Counselor to facilitate relapse classes and monitors active aftercare programs. Loxley WR/CWC offers a variety of activities to the inmates including Aftercare Alcoholics/Narcotics Anonymous and various religious activities through a volunteer Chaplain. Loxley WR/CWC also offers Adult Basic Education program that is conducted by inmate volunteers and the General Education Degree testing is administered on site by a local college.

LOXLEY COMMUNITY WORK CENTER (CWC) opened in October 1990 with a designed capacity of 124 minimum custody inmates. The original staff included 9 security officers and 6 support personnel. Subsequently to that time, the capacity was decreased to 75 inmates, permitting an increase to the work release center's capacity. The primary mission of the CWC is to house low risk/minimum custody inmates. The inmates provide free labor/community service and are assigned to various state, county, and local governmental agencies. The agencies accept responsibility for supervising the assigned squads and transportation to and from the Center. At present time there are 18 different squads.

Mobile Work Release/Community Work Center opened in May 15, 1978 with a designed capacity of 55 community custody inmates. The property, located at 2423 North Beltline Highway in Mobile, was leased until 1988, when it was purchased by the Department. Subsequently, the operational capacity has increased significantly to accommodate both community and minimum custody inmates. The minimum custody inmates provide free labor for community work projects.

During 1995, the Center was the recipient of a federal grant funding an Aftercare/Relapse Program for drug/alcohol offenders. Approximately 100% of the inmates at Mobile are drug/alcohol abusers and participate in Narcotics and Alcoholics Anonymous substance abuse programs and they are monitored by two full time counselors. To be a part of this program, each inmate assigned to Mobile WR/CWC must actively participate in our continuing care and aftercare program. The inmates must attend these classes whether it is before or after their regular working hours. Here they are provided with the necessary tools to not only obtain employment, but also maintain a healthy lifestyle while remaining drug and alcohol free. Inmates assigned to Mobile who complete their twelve month aftercare recovery are solicited to speak at various youth programs for at-risk youths who may otherwise become incarcerated themselves.

Currently, Mobile WR/CWC has a capacity of 254 inmates, which include 30 available beds to accommodate security level II inmates. With the newly assigned security level II beds, Mobile has incurred a change in mission. Mobile is also a Community Work Center and provides free inmate labor to the city, county, state and other local municipalities.

Additionally, the Aftercare program has an all volunteer GED program. The program is supported by the Bishop State Community College and supplies various resources. Volunteers report to the facility weekly to tutor participants to prepare them for obtaining their GED certificates.

On January 24, 2004, Montgomery Work Release began transferring work release inmates to Bullock, Alex City, and Atmore facilities in preparation for transition to a Level II, minimum out institution.

All work release inmate transfers were completed on January 26, 2004 without incident. On January 28, 2004, Montgomery Community Work Center (MCWC) received the first minimum out inmates.

On January 30 & January 31, 2004, we completed the transfer of minimum out inmates from Elmore Correctional Facility to MCWC. MCWC total inmate capacity is 326 inmates.

During the month of March, the installation of the perimeter security fencing was completed along with the establishment and operation of the Inmate Custody Control Systems Office and the Inmate Scan Check In/Out System. On March 03, 2004, our Substance Abuse Program (SAP), Aftercare and Chronic Care programs commenced. The first MCWC SAP Graduation took place April 27, 2004.

May 2004, the installation of the electric locks and the construction of the Central Control Building were completed and operating successfully.

MCWC currently manages and organizes inmate work squads. The average monthly inmate work squad checked out is about 299 inmates to thirty-three (33) agencies. The average total monthly hours are 39,960 hours at $5.15 per hour for an average monthly total of $205,794.00 being saved by these agencies.

In 1893, the ADOC purchased the Williams Plantation property and used it as a farming operation in support of other prisons. Previously known as Number Four Camp and Number Four Spot, the low lying farmland is located three miles north of Montgomery, and consists of 2,385 acres of land bordered on three sides by the Tallapoosa River. During the ADOC's road camp era, the facility was used to house county misdemeanants. After the old Kilby Prison was closed on January 21, 1970, Number Four Camp was also closed. However, during June 1972, Number Four Honor Camp was reopened to expand the newly developed work release program's capacity. Initially, the work release inmates were housed in barracks converted from old chicken houses. It was these inmates that were transferred to Montgomery Work Release Center. In 1976, and continuing to 1983, the facility was renovated by constructing two dormitories, which created a operational capacity of 264 minimum custody inmates.

Red Eagle is an Indian name given to William Weatherford, a noted leader of the Creek Indians. The facility's property contains numerous archeological artifacts from an early Creek meeting ground. In 1976, the Chief and Council of the Creek Indian Nation gave approval to the ADOC to use Red Eagle's name for the facility.

Red Eagle Honor Farm is primarily a cattle and agricultural operation. Additionally, Red Eagle provides inmates on a daily basis to the State Troopers, Alabama Air National Guard Units, Alabama Department of Transportation, Forestry Commission, Garrett Coliseum, Alcohol Beverage Control Board, and other municipalities, state, and federal agencies. Red Eagle provides skilled inmate labor to the Alabama Correctional Industries. These crews construct or remodel buildings for the various state, county, and city agencies.

Red Eagle provides opportunities for assigned inmates to take Adult Basic Education Prep classes once a week, enabling them to complete the GED and receive certification.

Red Eagle has an active religious program. A volunteer chaplain is assigned to oversee the various services, and to provide daily counseling. Ministers from different faiths also conduct services, on a regular basis.

Red Eagle has a volunteer who coordinates Alcoholics and Narcotics Anonymous classes once per week to assist inmates whom are recovering from substance abuse problems.

ST. CLAIR CORRECTIONAL FACILITY

St. Clair Correctional Facility opened on June 2, 1983 with an operational capacity of 1050 maximum and below custody inmates. The facility is located on 600 acres with 62 acres fenced in 1996 with the ADOC's first lethal perimeter security. St. Clair maintains approximately 500 life without parole inmates.

The Alabama Correctional Industries operates a vehicle restoration, furniture restoration, modular office furniture, mattress/pillow plant and a chemical plant inside the St. Clair Correctional Facility. The facility provides on-site classroom settings for academic/vocational educational programs through Gadsden State Community College with emphasis on adult literacy. Gadsden State Community College also offers welding, furniture refinishing, electricity and masonry. St. Clair also provides a total care medical infirmary with complete dental care, dialysis, a cancer unit, emergency room and diagnostic services through a private medical contractor. As of March 2001, Mental Health Management (MHM) Services has conducted a mental health program at the St. Clair Correctional Facility. The inmates qualifying for this service are assigned a treatment coordinator and receive individual counseling.

Currently, Word of Life Christian Center, Clearbranch United Methodist Church, Pleasant Mount Baptist Church, the Roebuck Parkway Church of Christ, School of Christ Ministries and the Sunni Muslim Community of Birmingham sponsor classes in the Faith Dorm.

The Faith Dorm currently consists of 180 beds. Since its inception on October 1, 1999, the Faith-Based Honor Dorm at the St. Clair Correctional Facility has done well. The Faith Based Dorm provides a faith-based environment where life skills, job skill and communication skills are taught. There is a system of mentoring led by free-world volunteers. This program provides an opportunity for inmates who want to make a change in their lives. It gives them an environment in which inmates can find encouragement and the support needed to face and solve problems. Every inmate of the Faith Based Dorm works an internal job for a minimum of four hours a week in one of five areas as well as their institutional job.

In 1977, construction of a new Draper Correctional Center began. On June 25, 1978, the new facility was named Thomas F. Staton Correctional Center in honor of Thomas F Staton, a previous Chairman of the Board of Corrections. The institution is located on Alabama Highway 143, approximately 12 Miles West of Wetumpka in Elmore County. The medium security prison opened with a designed capacity of 440 inmates.

In July 1981, a new trailer unit was added with four identical bays, each with a capacity of 25 inmates. In October 1981, a new Annex was opened approximately one mile from the Staton main compound. It consisted of five identical modular units, each with a capacity of 100 inmates. The Annex was a medium security facility with the Warden at Staton supervising both facilities. In October 1986, Staton Annex was designed as a separate facility and was appointed a Warden. The facility was named Elmore Correctional Facility.

Staton provides emergency medical care and an observational unit for nearby Draper, Elmore, and Frank Lee. Additionally, Staton offers educational/vocational courses for Adult Basic Education, college classes, a literacy program, auto body and heavy equipment repair, upholstery, welding, horticulture, barbering, and commercial food service. Staton also has a law library, a regular library, staff psychologist for counseling, and a substance abuse treatment program.

The Faith Based Dorm program began October 1, 1999. The objective is to provide the inmates with the tools they need to become productive citizens when they re-enter society and provide a quieter and cleaner living environment while in prison. The Faith Based Dorm was established to provide an environment managed by minimal security and an opportunity for inmates to achieve spiritual and personal goals. Inmates are encouraged to face their problems, and find solutions and support needed to solve their problems through spiritual principles and concepts. The program provides life teaching skills as well as communication skills, which is based on opportunity and responsibility, not privileges. Incentives are given to the inmates as a reward for their efforts. Positions are assigned to residents for establishing a chain of command in managing activities of the dorm. The Faith Based Dorm has been a positive addition to Staton Correctional Facility. It has been an excellent security management tool in reducing the amount of security needed for the dorm, and has made the dorm officer's job more effective.

TUTWILER PRISION FOR WOMEN

Warden: Gladys Deese

Opened: 1942 for female inmates

Designed Capacity: 549

Operational Capacity: 1004

Location/Mailing Address:

Wetumpka, AL 36092

Telephone Number:

(334) 567-4369

The current Julia Tutwiler Prison for Women (PFW) was completed in December 1942, at a cost of $350,000 and had a designed capacity for 400 female inmates. The new Tutwiler Prison replaced an older Tutwiler Prison for Women, which had previously been the state's first prison, the Wetumpka Prison. The Wetumpka Prison had gradually been converted to house female inmates and had been renamed in honor of the "Angel of the Stockades", Julia S. Tutwiler, a noted Alabama educator and crusader for inmate education, classification, and improvement of prison conditions.

The prison's 400-bed capacity had never been fully utilized until the 1980's when the female population growth surpassed the available bed space. In addition to being the main prison for females, Tutwiler is also the receiving and classification unit for all in-coming female inmates. Tutwiler also has a death row, maximum-security segregation and isolation units, a medical infirmary, a pregnancy unit, HIV positive unit, and a unit for the aged and/or infirmed, in addition to nine dormitories for general population use. Tutwiler houses all levels of custody, however the special needs bed capacity cannot be used for general purposes and must be reserved only for those special needs. Tutwiler also has programmed space for a general-purpose assembly/auditorium, a chapel, substance-abuse treatment, and administrative ancillary services.

The prison also has industrial programs to include an IBM plant wherein inmates' complete generic data entry for various state agencies, and an inmate-clothing factory that manufactures uniforms for the Department and county jails. There is also a trade school, which offers numerous programs. Some of the self-improvement courses offered are domestic violence, anger and stress management, reality self-concept enhancement, peer counseling trainers for survivor of sexual abuse, grief groups, healthy relationships, and parenting groups.

Experiencing an increased female inmate population, Tutwiler has not kept pace with its designed function of being a reception center for females entering the prison system, and for maintaining an on-hand population of varying security requirements. Tutwiler has also outgrown its geographic location. The topography is such that expansion external to the perimeter is prohibitive, and space within the perimeter has been fully exploited. Further, the sewage treatment lagoons cannot be expanded to accommodated additional inmates, which are increasing faster than males. Tutwiler has become landlocked. This issue of overcrowding brought forward a lawsuit that required Tutwiler to keep to a count of 700 in the institution and 250 in the Tutwiler Annex. The ADOC contracted with Louisiana Correctional Services to house our excess amount of female inmates.

Ventress Correctional Facility was opened in August of 1990 with a primary mission to provide alcohol and drug treatment to the Department's growing inmate population. It was named in honor of Edward C. Ventress, a long time mayor of Clayton, who was instrumental in getting the prison located in Clayton. Ventress was designed on the campus style model and was dedicated for drug treatment. Inmates are in one of the three on-going eight week treatment programs: a 15-week program for inmates with dual disorders, a six-month program funded by a grant created by the Omnibus Crime Bill Act (This is currently known as the Residential Substance Abuse Treatment Program (RSAT)), and a 12-month (minimum) Therapeutic Community.

Spring of 2003, the gymnasium was converted into a dorm to house additional 200 inmates to help in reducing the overflow of the county jails.

Ventress offers vocation educational programs, which are provided by the nearby Wallace Community College. J.F. Ingram offers an academic program. In addition, Ventress provides community services to localized city, county and state agencies.

Ventress also offers comprehensive medical health care that encompasses mental health, medical and dental care, to include free-world specialty services.

Ventress' Faith-Based Honor Dorm program began in 2003 with an operational capacity of 200 inmates. Protestant, Catholic and Muslims are the predominate religions.
